

PULA AVIATION SERVICES LTD

OUR COMPANY

Pula Aviation Services is focused on delivering services in support of aircraft ownership, management and operation to customers within Business, Private and Executive Aviation through the diverse capabilities of our businesses Centreline AV Limited and ASG Limited Offering more than 100 years of combined business aviation experience through our leadership and highly respected aviation companies, we support clients through their requirements from ad-hoc charter to outright purchase and turnkey aircraft management. Our market expertise and operational fit provide high customer satisfaction in the air as well as on the ground with a full-service aviation package.

JET CHARTER AND MANAGEMENT

For people who choose to fly privately, Centreline's mission is to ensure an exceptional experience on every flight.

One of the biggest advantages of travelling privately is flexibility, having full control of the schedule and time. This can be especially beneficial when direct routes with commercial operators are limited to eventual destinations. Depending on the choice of aircraft, a charter flight will provide a direct connection to a destination. There is no need for multiple stops, or to travel in the wrong direction. Access is opened up beyond commercial airline airports, charter flights are possible to many more regional and executive airports which are more often than not closer to required destinations with shorter transfer times and no queues.

More importantly now than ever before, chartering an aircraft to fly privately will mean that crowds that are present when using larger airport terminals and commercial flights are avoided. There are dedicated private terminals for private flights with a lower passenger flow and minimum interaction with airport agents, security and crew members.

Charter flights can be purchased directly through an operator of business aircraft such as Centreline AV Limited, which provides specialised services to owners and users of business and private aviation. Centreline is a Bristol-based Air Operator Certificate holder (AOC) with a diverse aircraft fleet ranging from a turboprop, ideal for short hops between European cities, light to midsize jets to span Europe and beyond plus an ultra-long-range jet for non-stop intercontinental flights.

With each request for a charter quote, one of Centreline's charter experts will be allocated the enquiry and will firstly check the feasibility of the trip's requirements and present all options of aircraft types and airport destinations appropriate for each flight.

A detailed quotation will then be prepared and once a trip is booked the team at Centreline will coordinate the entire experience to ensure that the finer details of a journey are planned for, to levels commercial travel cannot offer.

FBO

When visiting Guernsey and Bristol International Airports, our full-service FBO's ensure an exceptional experience. Both facilities have processes in place to make sure staff, crew and passengers are looked after whilst adhering to guidelines. Our dedicated teams guarantee a high-level service by working to protocols and personal preference of interaction levels which larger terminals cannot offer.

GUERNSEY

ASG Flight Support offers extensive ramp space and the services available are the most comprehensive on offer at Guernsey International Airport. Offerings include in-house maintenance, hangarage (on request), and facilities include a passenger lounge crew car, catering, flight planning, weather service and duty free. Passengers and crew are assured a first-class experience.

BRISTOL

Centreline is based at Bristol Airport on a large site well away from the main airport building. As a full service facility providing handling, fuel and maintenance services, Centreline has on-site security screening, two passenger lounges, two crew lounges, a customs arrival area and everything else you would expect from a modern FBO.

TECHNICAL SERVICES

Supporting Business and General Aviation from nose to tail. Our highly experienced aircraft maintenance team is ready to support your aircraft.

AIRCRAFT MAINTENANCE

Maintaining aircraft at our Guernsey and Bristol bases, ASG offers line, base and AOG maintenance support across a wide range of aircraft types from Cirrus and Eclipse, to Cessna Citation, King Air, and many more.

CAMO

Providing private aircraft owners and commercial operators with a complete airworthiness management service whether an aircraft is in service or in storage.

AVIONICS

Delivering innovative solutions, ASG provides complex upgrades in a variety of aircraft to increase aircraft safety, performance and value.

AIRCRAFT SALES

Acquisition and on-going operation of an aircraft can be a complex activity, and it is best to have support from aviation professionals to assist through the entire process.

SELLING AN AIRCRAFT

Our extensive experience and in-depth knowledge of the industry and the latest market trends enables us to deliver a tailored end-to-end service, precisely to your requirements. We take care of everything to ensure these objectives are met by delivering a comprehensive, highly targeted marketing campaign combining high-quality sales literature, advertising, email and telemarketing. By deploying a proven blend of marketing resources, we will deliver qualified sales opportunities for your aircraft.

Once a Buyer has been found we coordinate the all-important contractual negotiations, oversee the pre-purchase inspection and necessary regulatory and legal procedures to satisfy various stakeholders involved.

BUYING AN AIRCRAFT

We start the process by establishing your exact aircraft and usage requirements and defining a needs assessment. How will the aircraft be used? By whom? When? Where? How frequently? Ownership may be of consideration due to the current lack of direct flights which is resulting in higher use of charter aircraft, and in this current time, the need for a safe travel environment. We listen carefully to you and your team to understand desires and requirements, and only after establishing what is important will we make a series of aircraft recommendations best suited to budget and/or travel needs.

Throughout the aircraft selection and acquisition process we act solely on behalf of our customers as their exclusive agent. Our objective is to present detailed, unbiased and accurate information that will allow a fully-informed decision regarding an aircraft acquisition, we will fulfil requirements and ensure a smooth and hassle-free acquisition.

CONTACT PASL

info@pasl.aero